BROOKLYN FOR THE LEAGUE.

WHAT'S THE WAY IT LOOKS AT THE PRESENT TIME. A Lively Day Among the Base Ball Man-agers-Changes in the Rules-A Come of Blind Man's Ruff Between Brooklyn and Cincinnati-Other News and Gossip.

The session of the Joint Playing Rules Committee opened the second day's proceedings of the great convention week at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday. It was, indeed, a quiet gathering, but there was not interest taken in the results, as nothing of a radical change in the rules was expected. The committee went into session shortly after 11 o'clock, and their labors were concluded at 3. The committee comprised Messrs, Day, Rogers, and Spalding of the League, and Shareig. Bar-nie, and Chapman of the Association. The changes made were as follows:

That part of rule 5 relating to the position lines of pitchers and which says that "each corner of the space of ground must be marked by a flat iron plate or stone six in:hes square" was changed from an tron plate or stone to a round rubber plate six inches in diameter. Rule 12 section 2, which says: "The moment the umpire delivers the alternate ball to the catcher or pitches pire delivers the alternate ball to the catcher or pitcher it comes into piny, and shall not be exchanged until it, in turn, passes out of sight on to foul ground," was changed to. "The moment the umpire delivers a new or alternate ball to the pitcher it comes into piny, and shall not at any time be intentionally discolored with the soil or etherwise." This change was made to prevent the prevailing habit of throwing a new ball stound the field so as to make it have the appearance of an oil ball. Bule vit, section it which says: "It after play has been suspended by the umpire, one side fails to resume playing within five minutes after the umpire has called "Flay," was thought to one minute after. "play" has been called.

playing within two players of the continuous after "play" has been called.

Rule 28, section 2, which says: "One player, whose mame shall be printed on the score card as an extra player, may be autestituted at the end of any completed innings by either ciub, but the player retired shall not thereafter participate in the game. In addition therete a substitute may be allowed at any time in place of a player disabled in the game then being played, by reason of illness or injury, of the nature and extent of which the umpire shall be the soin longs, "has been changed to read thus: "Two players whose names shall be presented on the score cards as extra players may be substituted at any time by either club but no player so relieved chail thereafter participate in the game. In addition thereto a substitute may be allowed at any time in place of a player being disabled in a game then being played, by reason of liness er injury, to the nature and extent of which the umpire shall be the soie judge." Two names, therefore, instead of one will hereafter appear on the corre cards as extra men, and a

Ref. 48, section 12, which says: "If a fair hit strike him before touching the fielder, and in such case no hase shall be run unless forced by the bataman becoming a base runner, and no run shall be scored," has had added, "or other base runner be put out." This is intended to do away with any question as to whether a base runner was intentionally hit or not by a batted ball, and to prevent a double play on the same. Hereafter a base runner hit by a batted ball can alone be put set. Hule 52, section 1, which says: "The umpire is master him must be promptly ejected from the grounds has added; "He must be invariably addressed by the players as Mr. Umpire."

Capt. Anson made a request of the committee that the official scorers of each club should be published. The committee decided that this was unnecessary. A vote of thanks was tendered Capt. Anson for his able assistance to the committee.

The Chairman of the respective committees were authorized to invite the official scorers, umpires, and players to be present at the annual conventions of the Committee on Joint Playing Rules.

Misnager Chapman and another delegate suggested that a foul tip be called a strike, but these were a number of objections and the matter was then dropped.

The directors of the American Association met in parlor F immediately after the Joint Rules Committee adjourned, but, after being in session nearly three hours, but very little information could be got of their deliberations. The directors in attendance were: Aaron Sterm of Cincinnati. R. Lazarus of Columbus, L. C. Parsons of Louisville, and W. W. Whittaker of the Athletics. The reports of Mr. Wikoff were presented and favorably acted upon, and the championship pennant was awarded to Brooklyn. An effort was made to romit the fines imposed on players by the umpires, but it was decided to allow the old rule in that matter to remain as it is, that is, that all fines so imposed shall stand, and there can be no appeal.

TRYING TO OUST BROOKLYN.

The question of the secession of the Cincingati and Brooklyn clubs from the ranks of the American Association and their entry into the American American American Into the League was the upermost topic yesterday. Buch remarks as "Well, Brooklyn extending entry into the League wouldn't take Brooklyn without Cincinnati, would they?" were heard at almost every turn. The fact is, no one but the officials themselves know what the probable outcome of the meeting will be; but one thing is pretty well understood by every one, and that is, the very life of the foundation is at stake, Whether it will culminate in a break up only time will determine. Mr. Byrne was not in the happiest frame of mind, owing to the continued onslaughts that have been made upon himself and his club by unscrupulous persons. Sa he claims. A SUN reporter had quite a pleasant chat with Mr. Byrne, and the Brooklyn magnate was not at all slow in expressing himself about the abuse that he has been subjected to of late. "Why," said he, "that 'com-TRYING TO OUST BEOOKLYN. lyn magnate was not at all slow in expressing bimself about the abuse that he has been subjected to of late. "Why," said he," that combine is bent upon doing anything to beat Brooklyn. They say I have ruled the Association for years, and there must be a stop put to it. If they would only stop and reflect at the labor I have put in for them since I have been an official of the organization, they would not be so willing to carry out their designs."

"What is the Brooklyn Club going to do about it?"

"Protectitself at all hazards."

keep up its organization.

A BERAR IN "THE COMBINE'S" RANKS.

The proceedings of a little secret session of what is called the "Association Combine" leaked out yesterday morning, and if the "combine" sticks to its resolutions there is apt to be some tun before the American Association completes its labors of the annual meeting. It was mentioned in The Sun yesterday that a conference had been held in Philadelphia in which five clubs were represented. Instead of Philadelphia the conference was held in Mr. Von der Abb's rooms at the Grand Contrait Hotel this city. Besides the President of the St. Louis Club, there were present a representative of the Louisville, Columbus, and Athebre Clubs. It was intended to man out the procedure of the "combine" at the Association meeting to-day, and to ix matters up generally. The absence of Kansas City from the conclave was rather a surprise, but then no difficulty was expected from that direction, and all arrangements were made to carry out their designs, which are principally to prevent Brooklyn and Cincinnati from receiving any favors in the Association. It was the "combines" intention to elevate L. C. Krauthoff of the Kansas City Club to the Prosidency, in place of Wheeler Wikoff, but, after an interview with the Kansas City Club to the Prosidency, in place of Wheeler Wikoff, but, after an interview with the Kansas City man yesterday morning, it is not likely that they will want him at the head of affairs. They claim that he is too much of a Brooklyn and Cincinnati man for them, and the chances are that Zaoh Phelps of Louisville will be their candidate. It is stated that when Mr. Krauthoff was approached by one or two members of the combine they absolutely weighed him down with so many conditions and demanded so many promises that he faily refused to be a party in any arrangements of that kind, and that settled the interview. How Mr. Phelps can be elected is a mystery if Cincinnatia dogether, which is highly probable.

Manager Harry Wright of the Philadelphia Glub came tripping into the Fitth Avenue Hotel resterday like a tree-year-old colt. The voteran was quite cheerful, and in reply to The Sun reporter inquiries about his supposed connection with the Brotherhood said. "Well, I'm still at the old stand in Philadelphia and am thoroughly contented." Then you expect to remain with the Philadelphia and in the suppose to remain with the Philadelphia flub?"

"Ies, I guess that is about the size of it; and you will find that a rood many of the Philadel.

the Brotherhood would desert the ranks of the League, and in that case, said he, the scheming organization will soon dry up and blow away.

"It is all very well," he continued, "for any set of men to believe that there is naturally a bonanza in base ball, specially if the players be stars or champions. I wonder if it ever occurs to them the losses they are liable to sustain, it is just as easy to drop so many thousands as it is to make them. The public, my dear sir, are not so infatuated with the star players that they will patronize the games whether they play good ball or not. They must keep up their reputation or they will surely be unsuccessful. For instance, take Philadelphia, We have two good clubs, and both are popular with the public so long as they play winning ball. But if either of them should play losing ball and drop down a position or two in the race, there is an awful diminution in the attendance. So it is all around, and so it will be with the Brotherhood.

In yesterday's battle they forced the fight from start to finish, and, although the teams were pretty evenly matched, the Prospects gained the victory by superior playing. The game was free of foul playing and slugging, but played with a vim and spirit worthy of the cause. Only one touch down was scored in the first half, three minutes before the call of time. Davis of the Prospects golting the ball fairly over the goal line, but so much on side that the kick for goal was very difficult. No goal.

In the second haif Rodman made another touch down for the Prospects, and Davis the third. Both times the kick for goal was so oblique that Patteson could not get the ball over the bars. The Adelphi boys were unable to score.

The Favorite Benten at Even Weights— Civil Service Defeats Sam Morse in the Match—Small Fields on a Reavy Track. The New Jersey Jockey Club's races were un off in the sunshine yesterday, but the track was a batter of mud in places. The attendance was fair, and would have appeared large at a side track where the stands are small and the betting quarters limited. Scratches dwindled the fields so that two of the races, in addition to the real match between Daly and Carmedy's colts, were reduced to virtual matches. The surprise of the day came in the third race' in which only two started, Dwyer Brothers colt Oregon and Gray & Co.'s colt Frejols, both three-year-olds. Oregon was such a strong favorite that there was but little betting on the result. Frejols was back in the light at the head of the homestretch, and it looked 100 to 1 in favor of Oregon, but Frejols closed the gap half way home and beat the favorite in by backers of form had the best of it on the day. BOWLING.

Sport with the Ten Pins.

The Carruthers tournament opened at the Elephant Club house on Monday evening, with the Avona, Namelesa and Brooklyn A. A. teams all prepared for the fray. The Avens and Nameless clubs rolled the first game, the latter winning. When the second game was played between the Brooklyn A. A. and the Avens teams, the former were confident of success, but their anticipations of victory were quickly dispelled by the good twiring of the ball done by the Avon men. The third game was between the Nameless and Brooklyn A. A. teams, and, as in the first game, the Nameless did some excellent bowling, defeating the Brooklyns with more ease than the Avons. From the number of spectators present it is predicted that the contests will be watched with great interest by the members of the different cluss. Mr. Peil, President of the tournament, says that from the outlook the contests will be exceedingly close throughout the tournament. The scores.
